GREGORY WEINSTEIN.

Delegate to the Central Labor Union. WRITTEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR TO-MORROW

"EVENING WORLD."

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1888.

PRICE ONE CENT.

STREET WARM

The Liveliest of Times for the Bulls To-Day.

A Drop Expected in All the Gould Securities' Dividends.

Manhattan Rallway Directors to Beclar Probably Only 1 Per Cent.-This Was the Heaviest Blow to a Street Already Conggering-How Quotations Have Beer Reduced-Gould May Bo Ill, but He's Still in Power.

Wall street is having a livelier time of it to day than it has experienced for many weeks. The Stock and Consolidated Exchanges were turned into veritable bear gardens at the opening this morning, and such of the bulls as have been hanging on to their stocks for months, in the hope of a change for the better, were running to get out as fast as they Added to the liquidation of the old bull pool in St. Paul, and to the reduction of 10 to 50 per cent, in rates by the Iowa Railroad Comioners, is the prospect of a reduction in dividends by all the Gould properties.

The directors of the Manhattan Elevated Railway will meet late in the day to take action on the dividend.

It is expected that but 1 per cent. will be declared against the 114 of former times. The bears also predict that the Missouri

Pacific, which last quarter came down from 1% to 1%, will now go one better and pay

1% to 1%, will now go one better and pay only 1 per cent.

Even Western Union is said to be booked for a reduction from 1% to 1 per cent.

Jay Gould has taken good care to be at a safe distance from Wall street while these things are in progress, although it is well known that if reductions are made they will be directly by his orders.

Indeed, Russell Sage said this morning that "in deference to the wishes of Mr. Gould the Manhattan dividend will probably be reduced to 1 per cent."

Jay Gould may probably be ailing physically, but what is to be said of the dupes who bought his Manhattan and Missouri Pacific way above par, and now see not only the prices of their securities cut in two, but their income also practically cut off?

In order to give a clear idea of the shrinkage in values that has taken place since this day week the following comparative prices are given:

are firen:
11/35	Lowest Last Tuesday,	Lowest To-day.	Da
Manhattan	90	775	121
Missouri Pacific	70	6732	21
St. Paul		61	8
St. Paul pfd	10314	9814	19 2 3 3
Lake Shore	9032	8832	11
Reading	69%	56%	9000
New England		8434	2
Union Pacific	5436	5234	2
C., B. & Quinc	y 118	1093	3
There was a	strong rally in	a the m	arke
stound 19 o'ele	ook when Ma	nhattan	POS from 77% to 79%. St. Paul preferred from 98% to 100%, and Manitoba from 96 to 98.

As expected, the Manhattan directors declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent.

Officials say the company earned 2.29 per cent. and the surplus will be used to settle

The posted rates of exchange have been advanced to 4.88 and 4.90, owing to the de-mand against securities sold for foreign ac-

The offerings of bonds to the Government day were unusually large, aggregating to-day were unusually large, aggregating $2,678,000. J. S. Jarvie, a member of the Consolidated

Stock and Petroleum Exchange, announced his suspension to-day. The failure is a small Genade Southern	High.

Canadian Pacific 56%
Uhie., Bur. & Conney	11006	ł
Chienes & Kurthwest nfd 1402	14052	î
Ohio., Mil. & St. Paul	100%	17
Ohie, Book Island & Pacific 104	104	1
Octorado Coal & Iron	1277	1
Dalaware & Hudawa	108%	3
Denver & Rio Grande	15	В
Kast Tenn., Va. & Ga. 1st prd 61 E. Tenn., Va. & Georgia 2d pf 22	61	0
Dincis Central 11616	11636	1
Lake Shore	89%	10
Lake Erie & Western nfd	6454
Menhattan Consol	10	-13
Missouri Pacific	694	127
Morris & Ennex 140	160	1
Hashville Chatta, & St. Louis 15% New Jersey Central 81%	8134	В
New York Central 10414	10432	1
N. Y. & New England	8559	13
B. X., Unic. & St. 1. 2d pfd 284	2614	123
N. Y., Lake Eric & Western	報答	3
Narioli & Western pto 4612	4034
Northern Pacific pfd	50°	В
Onto & Mississippi	18	M
Procine Malianessan 224	500	Ш
Philadelphia & Reading 67 is Pooria, Decatur & Evans 175	575	13
Rich, & West Point Ter 9982	299	3
Rich, & W. P. Ter. pfd	34
St. Paul, Minn. & Manitoba 98% St. Louis & San Francisco pfd 63%	188	13
Texas Pacific	19
Union Pacific 53%	2635
Managan, St. Louis & Pacific pid 22	22	18
Western Union Telegraph 75	7536	33

New York Markets. ar. — December options opened weak at 96c, below last night's closing quotations. The was weak and the quotations dropped to but afterwards recovered to the opening

The foundation of all happiness is health. A man with an imperfect digestion may be a millionaire, may be the husband of an angel and the father of half a dozen everube, and yet be miscrable if he be troubled with dyspepsis, or any of the disorders arising from imperfect digestion or a singuish liver. In Piznou's Piznou's Pusnous Pusnous Piznous are the nates and surest remeday for those morbid conditions. Being purely vegetable, they are perfectly harmless.

A LONG ISLAND SENSATION.

Undertaker Hehling, of Breslau, Accused o Mutilating a fledy.

BRESLAU, L. I., June 12.—The little hamlet of Breslau is thrown into a state of excitement over the peculiar way in which Undertaker T. Hehling prepared and buried the body of George Simon, an old and respected body of George Simon, an old and respected citizen of this place who died on June 7 and was buried on Saturday last. Charges will be made against undertaker Hehling in Court this week by the wife of the deceased and by the association of the Breslau Cemetery. The charges are peculiar and will create no little interest.

When Mr. Simon died, Undertaker Hehling was given charge of the corpse and arranged for the funeral. Before the undertaker arrived Mrs. Simon left the house, as she was alone with the corpse, and went to the house of a neighbor. Before leaving her residence she securely locked the doors. On her return a short time afterwards she was surprised to find the undertaker in the parlor with the corpse preparing it for burial.

He had gained admittance through a window.

dow.

She requested to see the remains of her late husband, which request was denied by Mr. Hehling, who told her that she could not see the body until it was ready for burial. Mrs. Simon pleaded with the undertaker, but he remained firm in his refusal to allow her to view the remains. When the widow informed some of her friends of the unnatural actions of Mr. Hehling they became suspicious that something was wrong, and rumors were circulated that the undertaker had d-sfigured the body.

Snday afternoon the Breslau Cemetery Association called a meeting and decieed to exhume the body for examination. The decision of the meeting was circulated among the people and half the population turned out to witness the taking up of the body.

At 6 o'clock in the evening the cemetery was filled with men, women and children, many of whom carried shovels to assist in digging up the body. The coffin was raised and the body taken out. The widow was sent for and was present when the examination took place. When the coffin was opened those present were horror-stricken to see the left leg of Mr. Simon cut and hacked and only hanging to the rest of the leg by a small piece of skin.

Undertaker.Hehling was charged with mutilation and asked for an explanation. He replied that the remains were not properly straightened when Mr. Simon died, and the leg became stiff and bent so that he could not place the corpse into the coffin without resorting to cutting the limb. She requested to see the remains of he

ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB REGATTA.

The Twenty-third Anunal Event Started Of

Finely Over the Bay Ridge Course. The twenty-third annual regatta of the Atlantic Yacht Club took place to-day over the Bay Ridge course. The stir on board the numerous yachts anchored off Bay Ridge at an early hour this morning made it apparent au early hour this morning made it apparent that something unusual was going to occur.

By 9.30 o'clock the water near Bay Ridge was dotted all over with white sails, and the boats began to move around uneasily. Some seemed to take greatest delight in lying over on their sides as far as they could, while others preferred to let the wind make their sails tremble, and all were ready to start before the signal gun was fired from head-quarters.

quarters.

The entries were forty in number and of twelve classes, from schooners to cat-boats.

The judges, G. W. McNulty, J. T. Van Wyck and J. H. Gielow, were on board the tug J. Pulver.

The first gun was fired at 10.32, when all the yachts got their positions to start. At 10.38 the second gun was fired and at 10.39.38 the schooner Grayling passed the line with all her canvas drawing.

all her canvas drawing.

The breeze was blowing steadily from north-northwest.

The schooner Palmer got off second at 10.41.41, and the rest crossed the line as follows.

Hildegarde, 10. 41. 67; Azalea, 10. 42. 38; Thistie, 10. 43. 68; Miranda, 10. 43. 28; Gevalia, 10. 44. 48; Rival, 10. 44. 48; Fannie, 10. 44. 50; Shamrock, 10. 43. 50; Ariadne, 10. 45. 50; Shamshee, 10. 45. 50; Mistral, 10. 46. 24; Haze, 10. 47. 38; Pappoose, 10. 47. 52; Stella, 10. 48. 10; Enterprise, 10. 48. 21; Amaranth, 10. 48. 30; Huron, 10. 49; Roamer, 10. 50. 56; Phantom, 10. 51. 58; Kangaren, 10. 50. 56; Phantom, 10. 51. 58; Kangaren, 10. 52. 07; Eurybia, 10. 52. 19; Inderan, 10. 53. 08; Dasy, 10. 53. 38; Hypatia, 10. 54. 69; Gleam, 10. 54. 50; Marjorie, 10. 54. 50; Gem, 10. 55. 50; Blou, 10. 50. 50; Floid, 10. 50. 50; Lena, 10. 50. 60; Cld, 10. 50. 47.

At Quarantine the Hildegarde passed second at 10.58, the Miranda third at 11.03 and the Shamrock fourth at 11.09.
At 11.35 the breeze had died away and the yachts moved slowly with an ebb tide.

BRICK STRIKERS ARRESTED.

Trouble at a Picule-Strikers Pay the Fare Home of Scabs.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] VERPLANE, June 12.—There is little excitement to-day at the Roderman brick-yard where the to-day at the Roderman brion-yard where the brick-makers are on a strike.

A large number of the strikers attended a plonio in Bleesley's Grove last night, where beer flowed freely and more or less of them became intoxicated and disorderly. Six of them were arrested this morning for being drunk and abusing an insulting an officer, and were taken before Justice Taite, at Verplans, who found them guilty and imposed a fine upon each. the upon each.

The men working at King & Lynch's yard have not struck, but they may go out at any moment. Twelve of the new men who were brought up from New York yesterday by Roderman & Co. were induced to return to New York last night, the strikers paying their fares back.

In the Park Police Bill Dead ? at a loss to understand why their bill, providing at a loss to understand why their bill, providing that their places be made permanent, was not menioned in the list of bills both signed and velocedby tiov. Hill last Monday.

Their bill having passed the Senate needed only the Governor's signature to become a law, yet nothing more has been heard of it since it passed into his sands.

In the general order of things the bill would die from lack of approval within a specified time, and this time having expired they are wondering if it is dead or being held back for any reason.

Gen. Sheridan's Condition WASHINGTON, June 12.—Gen. Sheridan was at tacked shortly after midnight by fits of coughing but his condition this morning is about the same a WASSINGTON, June 19.

Eastern New York -Fresh to brisk northerty cinds, becoming light and

THE "GENERAL'S" TURN

Diss Debar Takes the Witness-Stand at O'Delia's Trial.

Cling to Her.

Dies Debar Gives a History of His Life and Tells About His Marriages-He Refuses to Tell the Names of His Married Daughters on Account of This Scandal-Ann O'Della's Defence Goes on This Morning.

There was considerable curiosity as to what would be the defense offered by the Diss Debars, and the Court-room was full of spec-tators when Judge Gildersleeve took his seat

Despite the abundant proof that Ann O'Delia was not Editha Lolita, and that she knew it; that she had played a fraud upon Artist Bierstadt in the production of a spirit picture ; that she had shown Manager Randolph where and how the "General" could produce a whole gallery of spook pictures if necessary; that she and the General were never man and wife; that the spirit pictures still had adhering to them material bristles and camels' hair; that madame had been playing fraud in other lines all her life; she once, at least, tried to engage the concert singer, Mrs. Sands materialize in a spirit cabinet to defraud the public; that even supposing Spiritualism to be as true as the rule of three, madame had prostituted it as a religion to fraudulent schemes, the faithful were still her champions, and surrounded

The "General" was the first witness in the stand, and he had maintained himself creditably. But he was unable to say how he came to be called "General."

He made a statement of his own "career in accordance with a request from Counsellor Townsend, though he thought it was not essential.

He came from West Virginia as agent for a large estate. He was afterwards Postmaster, elected member of the West Virginia Logislature, and held a number of other offices. He was married in 1848, his wife dying in 1849. Then he married the wife who appeared on the stand last week. He did not like to make public the names of his married damphters.

daughters.

In 1871 he was introduced to Ann O'Delia by Loewenherz at her Fourteenth street residence. She was the widow of Messant then. In 1859 he received a letter from Ann O'Delia inquiring about certain portraits of Lola Montez.

Then the General set out to relate how old Loewenherz said to him many ways.

that he had lived with madame as her hus that he had lived with madame as her hus-band since 1879. He first saw Mr. Marsh in 1884 in Jersey City. Madame was a medium and Mr. Marsh said he came to consult her as such. The spirit pictures had been coming ever since 1880.

The General was not more of a Spiritualist than other Christians, and he had only two or three times witnessed madame's medium-istic power. He declared the theory that he aided in producing the spirit paintings to be "absolutely false." He never furnished a picture to her.

picture to her.

"If I could paint pictures," said the General, "like those produced by the spirit artists, I could hang out my shingle like those great artists who have appeared as experts."

artists, I could hang out my shingle like those great artists who have appeared as experts."

The General said Artist Bierstadt's statement that he had seen the General pass a "spirit picture" to madame to exchange for the blank card on his (Bierstadt's) head was whoily untrue: that in accordance with madame's request he always left the room when she was to have a manifestation, in order to avoid all suspicion of fraud.

Diss Debar testified that he never knew of the deed of Marsh's Madison avenue residence to madame till after it had been executed. He said that Marsh had urged madame to come to live at his house. The General opposed it, but madame overruled him and he went with her and the children to live with Marsh.

He had never seen any paints, brushes nor other art materials in her rooms at Marsh's, nor at their former residence. In short, so far as he knew, no artists save those from the spirit world ever entered the house of Mr. Marsh, and he was perfectly innocent of any fraud, and didn't believe any had been committed.

He said the alleged sisters of madame, the Misses Salomon, were jealous because, as they said, Ann got two or three husbands when some folks couldn't get even one. This put Madame in a good humor, and her fat shoulders wobbled and shook with her fat shoulders wobbled and shook with laughter.

The general related how the Salamons were jealous of each other, and were constantly maligning each other—a story not consistent with the kindly letters between them, even to Ann O'Delia and from her.

Having made the General call Albert Bierstadt a liar, Manager Randolph a liar, Mrs. Sandsbury a bad woman, and the Solomons not only liars, but ingrates who had cursed the woman who lavished kindness upon them, Mr. Townsend surrendered him to Mr. Davis.

"Hefore whom?"

"I decline to answer. For the simple reason that he is dead."

On being compelled to answer if this was his only excuse, the General said Loewenherz was their only witness. He admitted that he had never been divorced from his Philadelphia wife. His marriage to madame was by contract—a lawful marriage in this fittle.

and the General is at least guilty of bigamy by his own contession.

The General had testified that he never of-lered to paint a portrait of Sister Alice Salo-mon, as he could not paint. He did offer to get a solar print in Boston, and painted by its maker.

Mr. Davis read the letter, making the offer to "paint an artistic portrait in oil colors from any photograph" which Alice might rom any photograph. Watch have larger send.

Then the General was led on and made to say that he was obliged to lie in order to obtain the needed $25 from sister Alice.

Judge Gildersleeve asked: "You didn't think it was a very big lie?"

"No, sir," responded the General.

"No, and it wasn't much of a lie, was it?" asked the Judge, cosily.

The General rejoined, "No, not at all," and this made the audience amile aloud.

He said he believed my witness for the prosecution had committed perjury or were persecutors of madame.

Recess followed the cross-examination.

IMPEROR PREDERICK IS WORSE.

He Is Greatly Debilitated and Takes Food with Difficulty.

Bealin, June 12 .- The improvement in the condition of the Emperor has come to a tandstill. In fact, the latest reports indicate that there is a relapse, the new features in the disease inspiring alarm. After a night of fever the Emperor this morning was much debilitated.

The following official bulletin from Pots dam indicates that the situation is no better FRIEDRICHRERON PALACE, June 19-9, 80 A. M. The Emperor feels weaker. The difficulty of swalculty.

London, June 12 .- A private despatch, received in cipher, says:

"As the shadow of death again draw around the unhappy monarch at Potsdam, the intrigues against him and his policy of regeneration for Prussia multiply and gain strength.

believed is purposely kept up to embarrass the Emperor.

"It is rumored that not only has Dr. vor Scholz, Minister of Finance, asked to be permitted to withdraw from the Prussian Cabinet, but that Dr. Friedberg, Minister of Justice, and Herr von Scholz, Minister of Public Worship and Education, have re-

Dancer Won the Ascett Stakes. LONDON, June 12.-The Ascott Stakes wer

DETECTIVE FEESS'S TIGHT FIX.

Ricked and Bitten While Arresting a Young

Thef—Shets and Parsuit.

Thef—Shets and Parsuit.

Thomas Byrnes, aged twenty-five, living in West Thirty-second street, and John P. Regan, of 119 Greenwich avenue, whom the police describe as hard characters, were taken to Jefferson Market Police Court, charged with robbery and assaulting an officer.

The pair entered the saloon of William Meyer, 246 West Thirty-second street, yesterday afternoon, called for drinks and refused to pay. The proprietor came from behind the bar to put them out of the place, when Regan knocked him down. Byrnes held Meyer while $40 was abstracted from his hip-pocket, and both then ran out of the saloon.

Regan was arrested later, and at 11 o'clock Byrnes was found by Detective Feess in the rear of a saloon at 236 West Thirty-second the second street, respectively. The proprietor came from behind the bar to put them out of the place, when Regan knocked him down. Byrnes held Meyer while $40 was abstracted from his hip-pocket, and both then ran out of the saloon.

Regan was arrested later, and at 11 o'clock Byrnes was found by Detective Feess in the rear of a saloon at 236 West Thirty-second the relation between Guastoni objecting to the relat rear of a saloon at 236 West Thirty-second street.

On the appearance of the detective Byrnes extinguished the gas, and, with two friends, attacked the officer, besting apd kicking him and biting him in the right arm and hand. Byrnes's friends then fied from the place, running down Seventh avenue. The officer followed, still holding Byrnes, and emptied his revolver twice at them. They escaped by entering the house that Byrnes was arrested in and leaving by a rear door.

Justice White held Regan and Byrnes in $2,500 bail for trial.

Typographical Union left this morning for Leaver worth, where they spend the day. They will be given a lunch at the Soldiers' Home and a banquet by the Board of Trade. They will visit the forth where the dress parade and a band concert will be given. Werk will be resumed in this city to-night.

At the marriage of Frederick Schmidt and Miss Louisa Kaeser in New Main street, Jersey City, on Sunday evening, Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) acted as best man. Some years ago the groom was an intimate chum of Col. Cody when the latter was in the employ of the Government as a scott on Blows Instead of Money.

T. Harrison Garrett's Body Found.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—T. Harrison Garrett' body was found and brought to this city this morning. It was found nearly a mile from the spot where the Joppa collided with the Gleam,

Banker Twombly Fined $100. of East Fifty-fifth street, was to-cay fined $100 by Judge O'Brien in the Supreme Court for failing to respond to a notice summoning him for jury YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—Patrick Barke, aged eighteen, an iron-worker, was out to pieces here by a freight train this morning. Burke has reintives living in New York City.

Victory for the Lathers. have succeeded in enforcing their demand, and with few exceptions all hands are again at work.

of interest is manifested in the recent publication of a beautiful volume containing accurate and richly colored portraits of all our Governors.

This valuable collection is supplemented with emblematical sketches respectively of each State and Territory, together with Fiags of Yacht Clubs, State Coat-of-Arms, Valuable Statistics and Maps. One of the combination cards goes with every pack of "Tunzim Cnoss-Our" Organizates, together with cartificate; seventy-five of such certificates entitie one to the Album.

LOVE AND MURDER.

Marri Dving.

She Lay in Bed.

Letters Found on His Person Showing Re lations with Mrs. Marri that No One Suspected-He Shaved Off His Beard and Cropped His Hair as h Disguise Before Going to Kill Her-He Was Evidently Driven Crazy by His Love for Her.

Christopher Krauns, a German shoemaker, who lives with his family in half of the first floor of No. 217 Greene street, was startled while at his breakfast at 6.45 this morning by the loud reports of a pistol in the room of Enrico Marri, an Italian groceryman, or the same floor.

two spartments, and springing to these the hoemaker drew them apart, when a horrifyng spectacle met his gaze.

There on the floor, bleeding from severa shaven man of thirty years, with a smoking pistol in his hand. Blood was oozing from Officer Murdock, of the Mercer street station, was on that post. He was called and an ambulance sent for.

wounds in her body, either one of which might be a fatal one. Two balls had entered her breast, another

Two balls had entered her breast, another had passed into her abdomen and the fourth was lodged under her shoulder-blade.

There was but little hope of her recovery.
The dead man, who had too evidently committed this double tragedy, was recognized by some of the excited people who gained admission to the house as Fillippo Guastoni, an agent for a California winehouse, who had been persistent in his attentions to Mrs. Marri.

The weapon used was a 82-calibre self-cocking revolver, every cartridge in which had been discharged. In event of failure to kill himself with the pistol, Guastoni had a two-ounce vial of laudanum in his pocket.

Among other things found in the pockets of the dead man were several letters, all in Italian. One was from Mrs. Marri; another, dated March 31 last, from her husband, and a long letter from Guastoni directed to Mr. Marri.

Guastoni was a well-educated, handsome Piedmontess of light convoletion.

Guastoni was a well-educated, handson young Piedmontese, of light complexion, about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighing tinued there until two years ago, when Marri, objecting to the relation between Guastoni and his wife, disposed of his interest to his partner and came to New York, establishing himself in the grocery on the corner of Greene and Third streets, over which the tragedy occurred Guastoni was so infatuated with Mrs. Marri that he sold out his business in Newark and followed her to this city.

His friend and confident, Calnaghi, who was seen by an Evenna World Teporter, said that he was so consumed with passion for the woman Marri that he was almost crazy.

was seen by an Evening World reporter, said that he was so consumed with passion for the woman Marri that he was almost crazy.

Calnaghi remonstrated with him and advised him to leave the city and place himself beyond the influence of the woman, trying to forget her.

Accordingly two months ago Guastoni went to Montreal and remained there until Saturday last. He returned that evening and called upon his friend Calnoghi, who remonstrated with him for returning and advised him to leave.

Calnaghi was with him this morning until 2 o'clock, when he left him at the corner of Houston street and the Bowery. He said that Guastoni was then in a merry mood and had agreed to a proposition to go to St. Louis and try and efface the image of the beautiful Mrs. Marri from his brain.

The friend was horrified this morning to receive from Guastoni a letter bearing a 6 A.

M. postmark, announcing that he would soon have committed suicide.

When he left Calnaghi this morning Guastoni had long, light hair and a light mustache. When found with a bullet in his brain he was cleanly shaven, his hair was closely cropped and he had added to his diaguise a pair of spectacles.

This disguise was effected, it is supposed, so that he might not be recognized by Marri when he came from her apartments to attend to his duties in the store.

Guastoni effected an entrance to the apartments of Mrs. Marri by breaking a pane of glass in the hall door and slipping a chain bolt. The door into her sleeping apartment being locked he kicked it in and fired upon the woman as she lay in bed. The bed clothing was saturated with blood.

Gruastoni's friend Calnaghi was certain that there was nothing wrong between nim and Mrs. Marri except that they adored one another. He said that the wife was true to her husband, and the knowledge that he could not possess her had driven the young man crasy.

This theory was rather destroyed by the contents of the letters found upon the dead contents of the letters found upon the dead man's person.

Mrs. Marri addressed him as "My adored one," and her note was overflowing with an unholy love for Gusstoni and expressions of disgust when referring to her husband.

The letter from the husband referred to is addressed briefly and coldly "Signore," and disposes of an overture to meet Gusstoni and talk matters over with him by saying that they could talk a month and to no purpose.

The young man was cautioned to remember that Luisa Gatti is now Luisa Marri and the writer's lawful wife, whose honor it is his duty to protot. Gusstoni was not to hope that the former frieudship existing between them could be renewed.

than could be renewed.

"Such a renewed of friendship would bring scandal on me and I would be looked upon as a miserable." writes the injured husband, and concludes with a warning reference to an Italian proverb to the effect that Felip Guastoni Dead and Mrs.

He Fired at Her Three Times as Only a pair of folding doors separated the wounds, was the writhing form of Mrs. Louisa Marri, and near her lay a smoothwound in his right temple, and it required only a glance to assure Krauns that he was

Mrs. Marri was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. She had received four buliet man crasy.

This theory was rather destroyed by the contents of the letters found upon the dead

a man is responsible for his mistakes, and if Guastoni made the mistake of continuing his addresses to Mrs. Marri he must take the consequences.

The Marris had had three children, all of whom are now dead.

At St. Vincent's Hospital the woman was said to be suffering from shock, and that no operation had been performed.

Her husband was with her, and would not be interviewed with relation to the tragedy.

SWEPT ONTO THE BOCKS.

The Sloop-Yacht Delphin Wrecked Off Rocky Point-Catamaran Damaged. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] PROVIDENCE, June 12.—The sloop-yacht

Dolphin, a pleasure craft owned by C. G. Gears, of this city, has been wrecked on the reefs off Bocky Point. The captain put into the point, anchored on a lee shore and furled sails. The heavy wind swept the yacht on the rocks when he attempted to make head-A party of fifteen men who had been tautog fishing were taken off by the tugboat Vim after several unsuccessful trials.

Clarence Littlefield's catamarsn, from this city, had her mast blown out off Pawtuxet.

The craft was almost totally wrecked on the HUSBAND POTTER HELD.

from Artist Rigby. James Brown Potter, who was arrested or the complaint of Mr. Rigby, the crayon the complaint of Mr. Rigby, the crayon artist of No. 31 Union square, was again arraigned before Justice White at Jefferson Market Police Court to-day.

The money was alleged to have been collected from C. A. McAuhffe, of 519 Canal street, and withheld by Potter from his employer, Mr. Rigby.

After hearing statements from both sides Justice White said it was a case for a jury, and held defendant in $500 bail for trial.

Judge White gave Mr. Potter no chance to bring in his allegations of Mr. Rigby's intimacy with his wife.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

RIFLEBRIN, N.J., June 12.—A Reading coal train, bound for Port Liberty, Jersey City, was wrecked this morning at Elizabethport through an axie breaking on one of the cars. Twelve large cars were telescoped and amashed to pieces, and their contents were scattered along the track. The accident occurred at the junction of the Long Branch road with the Central, and completely blocked travel over the former road for nearly four hours. No one was injured.

Maine Republican Convention

PORTLAND, June 12.—Chairman Manley, of Stat committee, called the Republican State Convention to order this morning. Mr. A. P. Wisweil, o Elisworth, Temporary Chairman, delivered his ad-dress. An allusion to Blaine was received with cheers. It looks like Burleigh for Governor on the first ballot.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—Frederick Work man, a leading Anarchist here, committed suicide man, a leading Anarchast sere, committee suicide in the City Prison this morning. His wife filed suit in court recently for divorce. Prior to the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists Workman sa-serted his intention of attempting their rescue, but could find no one to join his scheims.

ESPECIAL TO THE WORLD. |
BALTIMORE, June 12. - Peter Alt, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel near the Pimlico track, was shot and killed last night by his thirteen-year-old son William. Mrs. All says ber husband was bra-tally beating her when William came in and, find-ing her prostrate, fired the fatal shot. Sellon Hold for Killing Sinclair. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
BANGOR, Me., June 12.—Albert Sellon, charged with the murder of Jere Sinclair, the veteran postal clerk, was to-day held in $5,000 for the August term of the Superior Court. BRIDGEPORT, June 12.—Miss Mamie Moore (Mrs.

D. B. Young), an actress in the Flagg Specialty Company, fell dead in her room at the City Hotel, this morning. Clifton Entries for Wednesday. CLIPTON BACE TRACE, June 12.—Following are the entries for to-morrow: First Race. -Pures 8200, for three-year-olds and up

Barney B... Atom. Montgomer

PRICE ONE CENT.

Alderman Conkling's Charge Met by a Resolution.

The District-Attorney Directed to Investigate at Once.

A JOB FOR THE SPECIAL GRAND JURY.

In anticipation that there would be a circus at to-day's session of our famous Board of Aldermen, local statesmen of high and low degree, ex-office-holders, members of the "Third House" and ward and election district politicians began to arrive at the City Hall as early as noon.

They through the corridors, crowded the Clerk's office, and overflowed on the front and rear steps of the big building. Every one was anxious to know what would be the outcome of the charges that there was a outcome of the charges that there was a "combine" in the Board.

"Wonder," exclaimed an ex-Assemblyman, if Alderman Dowling will have the nerve to ask Alderman Conkling if he has been to the District-Attorney's office and as ked for an investigation into the College Point Ferry franchise bribery scandal."

An ex-Alderman was heard to remark: "Dowling is going for Conkling, and there will be a red-hot time. Parliamentary language will be at a discount. Alderman Fitz-simmons is also going to catch hallelulah from Col. Jim Mooney. I would not miss the matines for anything."

Among those who did not wish to miss the fun, if there should be any, were ex-Alderman Jacob W. Long. Pollee Court Clerk James A. Lyons, Laurence G. Goulding, Thomas Radley, Deputy Alderman of the Soventh District, Civil Justice Clancy, ex-Alderman Ficke and many others who work all day on election day. The lobby was crowded with the constituents of the Aldermen.

all day on election day. The lobby was crowded with the constituents of the Aldermen. White-whiskered Alderman Hubbell, of Harlem, was the first city father to enter the chamber. He was followed by John Murray, the representative of Goatville, and James A. Cowie, the political enemy of ex-Senstor Gibbs. Col. James J. Mooney was one of the early arrivals. He evidently had his war point on for he alung on the floor a pile of books which encumbered his deak.

"Hello, Josie!" was the way the gallant Colonel saluted Joseph Murray, the Sixteenth District member of the New York City Parliament.

Alderman Botter, of the Fourteenth, the Mackerelville district, entered with his St. Louis suit of gray and a white stovepipe.

Alderman Conkling came in quietly. He wore his usual streamer of a white neck-tie, and his blonde hair was parted in the middle and plastered on his round cranium.

Alderman Dowling did not notice him, but immediately went to his seat on the opposite side of the horseshoe curve.

Alderman Fitzsimons, looking like a young divinity student, clean shaven and wearing glasses, was one of the late-comers.

In the absence of President Forster, Vica-President Dowling dropped the gavel which rapped the Board to order, and burly Col. Mooney, of the Twenty-fourth Ward, opened the boodle ball at once with a motion to dispense with the regular order and proceed to the consideration of new business.

This motion was carried and the big chief of the Ollagowallas proceeded to disclose his of the Oliagowalias proceeded to disclose his motives.

Stepping into the centre assle to give his arms free swing he launched into a howling speech in which he said that for several days the papers had been filled with allegations of bribery and corruption on the part of members of the Board, in the matter of the refusal to grant certain franchises.

These allegations of corruption were the occasion of the resolution which he was about to offer.

These allegations of corruption were the occasion of the resolution which he was about to offer.

It was due to the Board and the members charged, he said, that these allegations be tully investigated, and as there was then in session a special Grand Jury there could be no better time for such an investigation than the present.

He hoped that the District-Attorney would summon the individual (here the Colonel pointed dramatically at Alderman Conkling before the Grand Jury and make him tell under oath what he knew of criminal conduct on the part of certain Aldermen.

The ferocious Colonel here concluded his effort, strede majestically to the Clerk's deak and presented a vesolution, which was read and which was in substance as follows:

That the District-Attorney be directed to place the charges of bribery against the Aldermen before the Grand Jury, now in session, as soon as possible: that he be requested to make a full investigation of the matter and report the findings of the Grand Jury at once to the Board.

Alderman Storm thought that, insamuch as the proceedings of grand juries are secret, the evidence adduced on their inquiry could not be certified to the Board of Aldermen and suggested that it was quite improper to submit the evidence against accused parties to them for consideration.

At Alderman Mooney's request the resolu-

of a misdemeanor.

This ended the debate and the resolution was adopted, twenty-toree voting for it, Alderman Conkling being excused.

Threatened to Shoot a Deputy Sheriff. Threatened to Nacot a Depaty Sansis.

Music and beer drinking stopped suddenly in the Bowery Volks Garden last night when Henry Stammer, of 87 Ludlow street, who was much tan worse for liquor, drew a six-shooter and threatened to blow off the head of Deputy Sheriff Magtinus, who attempted to eject him from the place. Stammer was arrested and was held in the Essex Market Police Court to-day for carrying a concealed weapon. Maginals failed to appear to pressents.

The Fat Medium's Friends Still on the bench this morning.

her as she sat in the court-room. defense of himself and the madame. He and madame had a hot quarrel before he ascended

Then the General set out to relate how old Loewenherz said to him many, many years ago that Ann O'Delia was the daughter of Lola Montez.

Mr. Davis objected on the ground that Loewenherz was not aparent, and his declaration was of no moment.

The General quickly interposed: "I don't know that! I don't know."

And then to questions the General said that Loewenherz addressed Ann O'Delia as "my daughter," my child," while she called him "Papa Loewenherz."

Mr. Townsend was getting along nicely in proving that Lola Montez was mother to his client, but her other claim that King Ludwig was her father was being badly shattered.

But the Court would not let Mr. Townsend go further in this line, and the General stated that he had lived with madame as her husthem, Mr. Townsend surrendered him to Mr. Davis.

The General insisted that certain letters signed with the name of the Madame were not like her handwriting.

They were the same letters acknowledged by both Madame and himself at the Tombs Court, but now they were placed in comparison with the epistle purporting to come from St. Peter to Mr. Marsh, and the similarity was marked.

Mr. Davis saked. "Were you every formally married to this woman?"

"Yes, sir, in this city."

"Hefore whom?"

"I decline to answer. For the simple rea-

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION)

lowing has increased. Food is taken with dim

' The Ministerial crisis continues, and it is signed.

"It is also a fact of the utmost significance "It is also a fact of the utmost significance that Prince Bismarck gave a farewell dinner last evening to Herr von Puttkamer, the Vice-President of the Council, who resigned at the request of the Emperor."

run to-day and won by Dan Dancer. Chip-peway was second and Benter third.

Types Spend a Day in Leavenworth.

When Issac Kuhn, of 183 Ridge street, asked Jacob Ruthowski, of 289 East Houston street, for some money he owed him, Ruthowski's answer was several blows over the head with a club, Justice O'Reilly neid Ruthowski for trial in the Essex Police Court to-day.

Patrick Burke Killed by a Freight Train.

"THE LAW IS A SCHOOLMASTER."

And as Represented by Judge Barrett it i very ant to be Severe on Delinouents

This motion was carried and the big of the Ollagowalias proceeded to disclos sgainst accused parties to them for considerstion.

At Alderman Mooney's request the resolution was again read, and he commented on it that no fair-minded man ought to object to the holding of such an investigation.

Alderman Conkling arose and addressing the man against whom he had preferred charges in the District-Attorney's office as "Mr. President" proceeded to protest against the passage of the resolution of which he said it was nugatory and its passage a mere matter of form.

The findings of Gragd Juries and the evidence taken before them and for Courts alone and any divulgence of them is a misdemeanor.

meanor.

The District-Attorney is a county officer, he said, and in no wise amenable to the Board of Aldermen. He can take no orders from it, and if he obeyed the request embodied in the resolution he would be guilty